SECTION THREE – LEGACY’S RESPONSIBLE GAMBLING POLICY

Legacy strives to protect our customers against the possible harmful consequences of problem gambling by means of information, assistance and personal attention.

1. Introduction

By "responsible gambling" we understand all policies, programmes and practices to be designed to minimise the incidence of, and harm caused by excessive gambling, while not interfering unnecessarily with the legitimate enjoyment of those who gamble harmlessly.

To this end the conduct of all our operations including our marketing and advertising, are designed to encourage people to gamble within their means and not to spend more time and money gambling than they can afford.

We stress to our customers and to the general public that gambling ought only to be seen as one entertainment and leisure option amongst many. Our aim is to provide our customers with excitement and enjoyment which means we do not want them to gamble to the point where gambling becomes a problem and causes significant damage to their lives and those close to them. We regard this as not only the morally right thing to do but also to be in our commercial interests. We neither wish to exploit nor be perceived to be exploiters of human weakness, instead we wish to be seen as providers of many kinds of safe entertainment including gambling.

Consequently our Board is formally and unanimously committed to doing all we can to promote responsible gambling, to discourage irresponsible gambling and to provide free, confidential and expert help to the minority of people who do get into trouble through gambling too much. We set out the specifics of this commitment below.

2. The corporate policy on problem gambling

The Responsible Gambling Policy (RGP) addresses, and will continue to address, both irresponsible gambling and underage gambling.

The aim is to add value through commitment to social responsibility and the sharing of financial and human resources. We aim to have a positive impact and ensure that Legacy's entertainment and hospitality products create a positive influence in the lives of our customers, our employees and their families, and to society as a whole.

We will, therefore, commit human and financial resources to promote public understanding of the problem of irresponsible gambling among our customers and employees, and have policies and practices in place to recognize and prevent problem gambling.

We are also concerned about the possible incidence of underage gambling and rigorously enforce the prohibition of underage gambling, taking whatever steps are appropriate to restrict gambling activities to persons of or above the age of 18 years.

Gaming operations are governed by a Code of Conduct that binds us to a set of protocols that give practical expression to our commitment to making responsible gambling an integral part of our daily operations.

3. Principal Tenets

The principal tenets of our policy are the following:

3.1. Commitment to regulators

Our policy is to apply resources in a comprehensive approach to the issue of problem gambling by co-operating with relevant local and national bodies.

3.2. Commitment to employees

- 3.2.1. We are committed to educating all current and future employees about responsible gambling and providing periodic refresher training.
- 3.2.2. We train all staff working on our properties to recognise potential cases of problem gambling including neglect of children and to report these to the appropriate qualified manager. We train selected senior management in interviewing possible problem gamblers in a constructive and helpful way.
- 3.2.3. Implementing communications programmes for employees to improve their understanding of responsible gambling and related policies and procedures.
- 3.2.4. Making brochures available to new employees regarding responsible gambling and where to find assistance.
- 3.2.5. Posting responsible gambling-awareness signage bearing the National Responsible Gambling Programme's (NRGP) counselling line number at various locations where employees congregate.

3.3. Commitment to customers

- 3.3.1. Making brochures visible and available in gambling areas regarding responsible gambling and where to find assistance.
- 3.3.2. Making available on the Legacy website www.legacyhotels.co.za information regarding responsible gambling and where to find professional help.
